Dear Members of the Senate Committee

If you do take the time to listen to my voice expressing my concern regarding the 2012 Human Rights and Anti-Discrimination Bill, then I thank you for allowing what very well may be the last time I am given such a privilege.

As a Filmmaker, I am passionate in pursuing truth and utilizing this creative medium to be a 'voice' for the many who are lost and forgotten, providing a creative and captivating means for storytelling. I share this with you in the hopes that you will take a moment to step back, and reflect if you will, on the intrinsic value of a human life. Every person is a unique and valued individual, worthy of being fought for, and free to place their hopes and trust in a Government that stands firm on moral integrity to better our great nation.

My deepest apprehension lies in the potential destruction such a Bill can and will lend itself to in our coming future. Undermining free speech, freedom of association, freedom of religion and natural justice, offers no hope to a world already suffering under the forces of greedy Nations and great evil.

I have seen first-hand the devastatingly destructive and demoralizing effects of the Public Court System. I can't even begin to fathom what other horrendous forms of ruin are inevitable for the Innocent, if Clause 124 is allowed. It isn't just an old traditional belief where one should be seen innocent before being proved guilty, this is a foundational Christian value and for good reason. I only see pure anarchy to follow should this Bill come to pass, enforcing an even greater void within the varying classes already present in our society.

You, my dear Senators, have a phenomenal obligation, by choosing to use your high position of influence to help enforce a change for the better, in a world that is hungry for justice and hope.

I pray you will seek wisdom in all you do.

Thanking you for your time.

Sincerely
