

Please introduce and support this bill. Sure, its only a small change, but surely anything that helps change the catastrophic damage we are doing to our world is a step in the right direction? And even if we are taking only tiny steps in the right direction, it's a huge improvement upon running in the wrong direction which is what we are doing now.

Think of how you will feel in another 25 years if you are one of the ones who did not say 'enough!'
